

MICHAEL LEWIS

Michael K. Lewis, Esq., a nationally known neutral, is based in the Washington, DC office of JAMS, Inc. He has served as Special Master, Court Monitor or Ombudsman for the Superior Court of DC and US District Courts in the District of Columbia, Western District of Washington, and the District of Rhode Island. He, along with Linda Singer, has taught negotiation and mediation at the Georgetown University Law Center, and in the Harvard Negotiation Institute's Mediation Workshop.

Mr. Lewis' mediation practice is broad — ranging from two party cases to complex, multi-party environmental disputes. He served as the mediator in the settlement of the nationwide class action brought by African American farmers against the US Department of Agriculture.